

LOCAL NEWS.

The new Council Committee are worthy of attention.

The retirement of Mr. George Rex from the council is regretted by many, as he was an able, although unostentatious worker.

Go to Loomis & Kents and see the new Crown Jewel gasoline cook stove with the new Blake & Davis burner and patent safety tank.

There are already twenty-six applicants for the police force, including the old incumbents. The Council will act on the list next Monday.

Margaret Koster of Sycamore street was arrested by Marshal Schlegel for child beating. The case was bound over to the Probate Court in the sum of $100.

Some of our merchants or their clerks forget to take in their displayed goods at night, as several persons such as glect have been noticed of late by officers.

Mr. Wm. Hassoldt on South Market street celebrated his sixty-first birthday last Saturday. A large number of his relatives and intimate friends were present.

Messdames Jarvis and Speaker have opened a dress making establishment at No. 97 South Poplar street, and respectfully solicit ladies' patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Myers and Smith are receiving an entire new supply of wall paper of the very latest designs. Their success in wall paper selections has made their store headquarters for decorations.

That Fahrenheit cipher which represents cold weather must have a first mortgage on Ohio, at the present rate of temperature. Either give us spring weather, or abolish the mercurial scale.

Barnum's circus bill stickers are plastering up the walls and bill-boards with the usual high down animal posters. Even the elephant Jumbo is not forgotten, and his picture is a prominent feature.

The new Scott bill creates a flutter among some saloon men, as they do not see why they should pay a couple hundred dollars and still not receive any protection. The argument is worthy of consideration.

Snow storms and cold weather continue to prevail and the work of the gardener is at a discount, except to prevent the infantile onions and other esculents from coming out of the ground in a frozen condition.

Prof. John Reynolds, the Mesmerist, began his week's engagement in the Opera House on Tuesday night. He is spoken of very highly by the press of Cleveland and other places as a worthy performing performer.

Miss Kroger still continues to annoy the Mayor's Court and the policemen with her daily visits and regular complaints of imaginary troubles. The woman is, no doubt, in a condition to be cared for by the proper authorities.

Next week the Street Commissioner will lay and repair all pavements for those parties who were notified and did not do it on their own account. All property owners will save added expense by laying their own pavements.

All members of G. A. R. Post No. 25, Canton Cadets, Sons of Veterans, and all citizens wishing to attend the entertainment of Akron Post on Thursday night, will please leave their names with U. J. Bockius, Q. M., at Bockius shoe store by Wednesday evening. Tickets 75 cents for round trip, good on any train going, and will return by special train after performance is over. Everybody go with your wives, your uncles and your aunts. By order of the Committee.

William Cassidy was among the occupants in the calaboose Saturday night. The calaboose was cold and the fire almost out. Cassidy commenced to fire up, and in order to hurry it up poured a quantity of gasoline in a funnel from a can and threw it on the fire, almost instantly flames burst from the stove, and the sparks on his hand ignited, and it was with considerable difficulty that he put out the fire on his hand, and not until it was badly burned. City Physician Behrman was called and attended to his injuries which the physician says are serious and will disable him from work for a month. The case has been reported to the Infirmary directors and he will in all probability be taken to that institution.

While in Columbus last week we learned that Judge Thurman was getting along with his broken arm; and we met General Morgan with his broken right arm in a sling and also doing well.

We met our old friend James B. Estep, who lives in Columbus, and found himself and family in good health. Mr. Estep's daughter Nettie of New York city is on a visit preparatory to starting on a trip to Europe to be gone a year, taking her young sister with her. Miss Nettie had her home from infancy with her uncle and aunt, the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hawk of New York.

Of course we called upon Secretary of State, Newman, at his office in the State House and found him hard at work. He is attentive to his duties and always glad to see his Democratic friends.

Sells Great Exposition.

As a general thing complimentary notices, many of an extravagant character, precedes the advent of a circus and menagerie, which after its departure is as often suffered to depart without word of commendation. In justice, however, to an exhibition, or rather a series of exhibitions comprised in the Sells Brothers' Exposition, containing one of the ten thousand spectators who witnessed the aerial performances on Monday night but will cheerfully admit that they were the best and most enjoyable they have ever seen. Many being of a startling and decidedly original character, as for example those of the Davene, Birk and Caron families. The menagerie is vast in proportion, and choice in character, containing among other curious specimens, two large hippopotami, a monster rhinoceros, a herd of giraffes, and a school of sea lions and leopards, besides, as the bills announced, herds of elephants, &c., and at least 100 cages of animals. The expense of running this organization must be immense, but the reputation of the Sells Brothers will insure them crowds wherever they exhibit. Emphatically it is by far the best show extant. —Chicago Times, May 30.

The Boss Book.

Mr. Adam Knobloch, the enterprising West End Brewer, will have on hand at different saloons in the city to the "Boss" Book Beer of the season on Saturday next, also on Monday, (show day). This Book will be the finest beer brought to this city. Those who enjoy the elegant "German" taste will appreciate the "Boss" Book.

Prof. Reynolds, the mesmerist had a crowded house on Tuesday evening, being his opening night. His experiences with his stage subjects were very laughable.

Mesmerism, or psychology as it should more properly be termed, is one of the greatest studies in animal magnetism, and is fully illustrated and demonstrated by Prof. Reynolds, who has been holding successful entertainments in Cleveland, Detroit, Youngstown and other large cities. He will give his entertainments in the Opera House during the balance of this week.

Charles G. Lang, son of John B. Lang, of Cleveland, formerly of Canton, stood second at the examination for the naval cadetship. Young Callahan took the first honor and should anything prevent him from accepting, Congressman Foran will appoint young Lang. Both are sons of Democrats.

DORRIS DEMORALIZED.

Circus Circus Combinations Which fail to Connect—A Snake Ringmaster.

The agent of the "John B. Dorris"—"International Show"—12 Great Shows Combined, lithographed and licensed here for May 15th, has shimmered like the effervescent bubbles on a glass of circus lemonade. The agent of Sell's Bros. circus was here, Charlie Stowe, the accredited "Boss" and gentlemanly press agent of Barnum, Bailey & Hatcher's "Big show," was here. Somehow it's cart the "Internationals." It therefore must be a "one horse" concern, or they would have "faced the music," and showed up on date. The auditor and agent (?) tore up license and check for same, and they silently left their old lithographs and quietly went their way. Our citizens here will not be afflicted with this bunion upon their municipal foot on May 15th.

Lessons in Natural History—

Dedicated to the children of America. We have been presented by Messrs. Sells Bros., whose great circus and menagerie will show here on Monday next, a set of their finely lithographed "Lessons in Natural History," consisting of beautiful colored plates of animals. They are very marvellous works of art, representing numerous strange animals of the dark African continent, which appear in their show.
